

Flying down under for ATRS?
Why not extending your trip for our GARS workshop in Brisbane?

GARS Down Under II
Call for Paper

"New and emerging issues in air transport economics and management"
Workshop organised by the German Aviation Research Society

in cooperation with Griffith Aviation

8-9 July 2020, Ship Inn, South Bank, Brisbane

Air transport industry is a highly dynamic sector. Changing legal frameworks and new technologies have enabled new business models to emerge, and will continue to do so. The resulting changes in supply may have severe economic, social and environmental impacts on stakeholders at different, e.g. geographical, levels. At the same time, the performance of the global aviation market is heavily dependent on regulatory and economic developments and other factors, such as political tensions.

In cooperation with Griffith Aviation, the German Aviation Research Society is back in Australia with its 2nd GARS workshop "down under". Back to back with the ATRS 2020 in Sydney, we invite air transport researchers and practitioners to our GARS workshop in Brisbane. Our conference venue is the Ship Inn, South Bank, Brisbane.

The goal of the workshop-style conference is to openly discuss research findings, including research in progress, with fellow researchers and experts from Governmental institutions, industry stakeholders and other affiliations. All air transport-related topics in the fields of economics, business management, strategy, regulations, etc. are welcome. Presentations should last 10-20min plus time for discussion.

We plan to have a get-together/dinner in the evening of 8 July and the workshop on 9 July. Depending on the number of contributions and attendees, however, we may already start with the first presentations in the afternoon of 8 July.

The workshop is free of charge for presenting GARS and Griffith University members. The fee for non-members and non-presenters is 50 EUR (25 EUR for full-time students).
