

8th GARS/EAC Online Panel Discussion

Covid-19 – where is aviation now?

Tuesday, 15 September 8:30am to 10:00am CEST

In cooperation with GARS, the European Aviation Conference, the Bremen University of Applied Sciences and the ATM Policy Institute, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University hosts the eighth GARS Online Panel Discussion on Covid and aviation. Much has happened in world aviation since the start of the Covid-19 pandemic. What is the state of play now? What do we know now that we did not know when we entered this crisis? What should we be thinking about? This session brings back together the panellists from our very first session to review what we have learnt and where we think we might go next.

Panellists (in alphabetical order):

Andrew Charlton, Managing Director of Aviation Advocacy

Ian Douglas, UNSW Sydney, Sydney

Peter Forsyth, Monash University, Melbourne

Xiaowen Fu, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hong Kong

Brian Pearce, Chief Economist International Air Transport Association (IATA)

Mike Tretheway, Chief Economist & Chief Strategy Officer of InterVISTAS, Vancouver

Moderator

Achim I. Czerny, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hong Kong

PROGRAM

The online session starts at 8.30 am CEST. The panel will be very interactive and attendees are welcome to share their questions and comments via the chat function. There will be enough time for intense debates between the panellists and the audience. The online event will end no later than 10.00am CEST.

Registration (free of charge)

There are a limited number of places available which will be allocated on a first-come-first-serve basis with priority for GARS members. For registration, please click <https://polyu.hk/qPSzT>. For further information, please check www.garsonline.de or contact anne-ly.wong@polyu.edu.hk.
